David Ure, W. J. Edgar Named
Social Credit, Independent
Parties Name Candidates
For Red Deer By-Election

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

WINNIPEG, Nov. 25.—David
Ure, vice-president of Initial High School, was nominated Wednesday to carry the Social Credit banner in the forthcoming by-election in the Red Deer constituency of the provincial legislature, to be held Dec. 16.

The convention was held at Calder's Hall.

Mr. Ure's nomination was unanimous.

The convention was late in getting started due to the delay in arrival of many of the delegates owing to some misunderstanding about the time of the election.

Mr. Ure spoke with enthusiasm over the prospect of Social Credit in carrying the election. He said he would devote himself unrelent-ingly to the cause, and would spare no effort in his campaign to win the seat.

Other delegates were equally enthusiastic and were optimistic over the chances of Social Credit for winning the seat back for the party.

In the 1935 provincial general election Hon. Alfred J. Hooke, now provincial secretary, won the seat for the Social Credit party.

He won from a field of five with 1,365 votes, while his nearest rival polling 788.

In the 1940 provincial general election, Mr. Hooke, as a result of the redistribution bill, ran in the newly-created Rocky Mountain
House constituency and was elected.

SEAT IS LOST

However, the party did not fare so well in Red Deer. Alfred Speak-man, who had represented the Red Deer constituency in parliament, contested the provincial constituency on behalf of the Independents and won it.

The by-election was called because of the recent death of Alfred Speakman.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—AP.—A new inquiry into the U.S. army's $120,000,000 Canadian oil venture to determine whether it involved "waste and extravagance" was disclosed today by chairman Harry Truman.

APPEAL TO OTTAWA
Letters and telegrams were written to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and the government to permit public eating of haggis on St. Andrew's Day. The leaders of the nation apparently realized just what a haggis is, and the government was asked to permit the haggis to be eaten on St. Andrew's Day.

CLAIMED VALUELESS
St. Truman.
The chief of the committee is convinced that the project has little or no military value in view of the fact that it would be in operation for next spring, and the alternative of moving oil from the United States by water would have been faster and cheaper.

Now the question is: How carefully has the army expended the money on construction?
The committee also indicates that truck drivers have been paid lavish sums that money for materials and shipping space have been wasted.

Women Weep, Brave Turn White At Bomb Horror Inside Reich

BERN, Nov. 25.—(AP)—A German woman who lives in Switzerland gave a graphic description yesterday of a journey through devastated cities of western Germany, telling of women who broke into tears at the sight of the ruins and of pale men who muttered bitterly that they had had enough.

The story was told in the Bern weekly, the Nation.

"The horror begins at Mannheim, Ludwigsheim and ends at the right and the left of the railroad line in ruins, terrible ruins," it quoted the woman as saying.

"A woman opposite me suddenly burst into tears. She had been in the Black Forest, several weeks after she was bombed out, but the light of the ruins brought back the horror."

BEYOND DESCRIPTION

"A man opposite me said 'I am from Cologne. You must see Cologne—it cannot be described.'"

"We arrived at Cologne in rain and darkness. We tried to telephone, but all the booths were destroyed. I saw brave men go white and shaking in air raid shelters during their most valued possessions in small suitcases."

"Clouds of smoke, pitiful ruins, heaps of rubble, and stench—that was Cologne. Beautiful churches were destroyed. The cathedral was damaged, but the spires were still standing. At the railroad station the first and second platforms were a pile of ruins. A trip through Cologne was a penance... the old city was a heap of rubble."

"Days after the heavy raids, clouds of smoke lay over the city and shut out the sun. Gas flames and decaying corpses patrolled the air. Even now Cologne stinks with fumes and filth."

Germans Expect Invasion Thrust In Jutland Area

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Germans have placed the entire Jutland territory of Denmark—one of the shortest routes from Britain to Berlin—in a state of military alarm and were reported today to have massed 200,000 men there in anticipation of an Allied invasion.

The Danish press service said orders have been given German troops to be on the alert and prepared to defend the peninsula. The Germans have an important airport for fighter defense in the area.

A confidential memorandum has been issued by Danish department heads to civil servants, and press service said, reporting that German forces will still further reinforced and fortification work speeded.

Chetniks Gain Control Over Extensive Area

By LEWIS HAWKINS

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Gen. Draža Mihailovic announced yesterday his Chetniks have gained control over "the entire country of Montenegro" and the adjacent Adriatic coastal area exclusive of the fortress region, indicating that his forces have hemmed in the Germans and planned them to tenuous communications in the important port of Kotor.

Meanwhile, the rival Yugoslav guerrilla forces of Gen. Josip Broz (Tito) reported fresh defensive successes against the Germans farther north.

German Foreign Office Spokesman Injured in Raid

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Nazi Transoceanic agency reported that Dr. Paul Schmidt, press spokesman of the German foreign office, was in hospital, suffering from a concussion of the brain as a result of Tuesday night's air raid on Berlin.

The English-language wireless dispatch said Schmidt was hit by a falling beam as he helped fight a fire at the Foreign Press Club.

The dispatch confirmed information from neutral sources that the building housing the offices of Albert Speer, the munitions minister, had been hit and said that the department's "documents and documents" were destroyed by fire.

Manitoba Liquor Ration Reduced

WINNIPEG, Nov. 25.—(CP)—The Manitoba government liquor control commission announced last night that effective Thursday permit holders will be allowed to purchase 36 ounces of spirituous liquor, three bottles of wine and 24 pint bottles of beer a month.

Previously permit holders could purchase 40 ounces of spirituous liquor and 48 pint bottles of beer and six bottles of wine a month.

The commission in a statement said:

"The facts are that due to the limited supplies available to the commission under Dominion government restrictions which became effective on Nov. 1, 1942, it has been found that the amount available to the commission was inadequate to supply the limited monthly quota now allowed to a permittee, and as a result of this the commission is seeking to purchase their monthly ration have been unable to do so."

Toulon, Sofia Attacked by U.S. Bombers

ALGIERS, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Large formations of American heavy bombers attacked the Nazi-controlled French naval base of Toulon yesterday and heavy bombers raided Sofia, it was announced last night.

(Toulon, the Mediterranean base where most of the French navy was scuttled a year ago, had never been bombed before by Allied planes.

(Sofia was heavily attacked by American bombers in daylight last Nov. 14. The Bulgarian capital had air raid alarms as early as AUGUST and in September Allied planes dropped leaflets to warn the city that raids would come.)

BOMB VIADUCT

A group of heavy bombers branched off from the main formation which struck at Toulon to bomb again the viaduct of another near Cannes, about 60 miles east of Toulon.

The targets of Toulon and Sofia are more than 1,000 miles apart.

The bombers which attacked Toulon were escorted by fighters while the flight over the Balkans and back was made without escort. At Toulon the large formation of bombers bombed submarine pens, docks and repair facilities.

Railroads and yards were struck again in Sofia, reported largely evacuated of its civil population after the last raid.

(A Berlin radio broadcast recorded by the Associated Press in London said the bombers attacked in waves over Sofia and some were shot down.)

Garson Named Liberal Head In Manitoba

Mr. Garson as leader, stating he felt the provincial leader should be free to engage in federal politics.

M. R. Sutherland, M.L.A. for Lansdowne and retiring president of the association, claimed the C.C.F. party had "betrayed" a portion of the people.

"They have done it by bright pictures," he said, "by promises of jobs for everyone in all circumstances by their promise to take over all industry and pay expenses of government out of industrial profits; by their dishonest promise that under them the working man will not have to pay taxes."

WINNIPEG, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Premier Stuart G. Garson said in an address last night that "real socialism" could not be merged into a democratic government.

Speaking at the banquet of the Manitoba Liberal-Progressive association, the Manitoba premier said Liberalism was started in a struggle to extend and defend human freedom and was still fighting that battle.

BEING CHALLENGED

Today it is being challenged by a group of men, some of whom no doubt are sincere in thinking that government should take over the normal processes of business and industry.

"They know, if they follow the authorities they profess to follow, that the state cannot take over economic processes of the nation and at the same time maintain freedom of the individual."

Western Airman Awarded D.F.C.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—(CP)—P.O. Art Bell of Victoria and Pilot Officer Albert, Sask., has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, R.C. A.F. headquarters said yesterday. Presumably P.O. Bell won the award for his part in the destruction of two enemy submarines—an exploit which Vernon, B.C., dispatches said Tuesday had resulted in a decoration for Warrant Officer William F. Beale of Vernon.

The Vernon reports said Beale won the Distinguished Flying Medal, R.C. A.F. headquarters said he was awarded the D.F.C.

Savings Stolen

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25.—Ernest H. Eldon, driller in a local shipyard, came off the night shift recently to find his home burglarized and all his savings—$2,750—stolen.

"If I had the sense to put that cash in a bank, I wouldn't have lost the $2,750 to a burglar," he said.

"I'd been saving that money to buy a house and all I've got left after months of work is a bit of a strong box. I made the mistake, you see, of keeping that money by me instead of putting it in the bank every pay day. Now I've got to start at the beginning."

But Cautious

London Grimly Satisfied As Berlin "Gets It Back"

By ROBERT BUNELLE

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(AP)—There is a feeling of grim satisfaction today among Londoners, who took the thundering bombardment the Nazis gloatingly delivered through the black winter and spring of 1940-41, that Berlin now is getting it back many-fold.

But although hatred runs deep for the Germans who blasted, burned and broke businesses, homes, bodies and lives of hundreds of thousands of British people, the Londoners feel rather sorry for them. At the same time, they accept the necessity for grinding the Nazi capital and its again, but I'm going to stay at my job as a driller until I've got the money to buy that house. No more foolish risks for me. From now on I'm letting the bank keep my cash safe. It's tough luck, when you're getting on in years, to lose the very thing you've been counting on, but what I want to do is to let other people profit by my loss. Don't take any chances. Let the bank take care of your money and then you'll have it safe and sure for the things you want to buy when the war's over."

Tempering all thoughts is the recognition that London's turn may come again at any time. While the Germans are short of bombers in the west, nobody is so foolish as not to recognize they might quickly assemble a sufficient force from other fronts to give London a 300-plane raid.

No man looks forward to such a prospect with pleasure. But nobody is worried about the abilities of London to take it again and again, if necessary. Most people feel it may have to before the war ends.

But the C.C.F. returned to power with a mandate for national socialism," Mr. Murray said. "The government, proceeding to implement its election pledges, will enact legislation to take over the banks, insurance companies, the mining industry, all communications, milk, bread and meat-packing. Wartime controls will be perpetuated in the peace and extended."

Mr. Murray said he believed "most of the C.C.F. leaders" to be "honestly under the delusion" that socialism can be applied and maintained constitutionally.

"According to the nature of things," he said, "criticism and opposition are bound to be included under the spurious umbrella of attempted sabotage and therefore forbidden. And, remember this, that when results are disappointing, as they are bound to be, the consequences of disillusionment will be the material for which the violent revolutionary movement is waiting."

Says C.C.F. Policy Not Constitutional

MORRISBURG, Ont. Nov. 25.—(CP)—Major Gladstone Murray, former general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, told the Canadian Club here yesterday that "experience proves" wrong those who believe "national socialism can be applied and maintained by constitutional methods."

"Assume the C.C.F. returned to power with a mandate for national socialism," Mr. Murray said. "The government, proceeding to implement its election pledges, will enact legislation to take over the banks, insurance companies, the mining industry, all communications, milk, bread and meat-packing. Wartime controls will be perpetuated in the peace and extended."

Committee Told: Up to 300,000 Homes Should Be Constructed in Canada In First 5 Years After War

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Up to 300,000 houses need to be built in Canada during the first five years after the end of the war, the Canadian Construction Association said in a brief presented today to the House of Commons reconstruction committee.

On the basis of past operations, the association said, it estimates the possible construction volume that can be carried out by contractors, the municipalities, the harbor board and municipalities as follows:

First post-war year, $450,000,000 to $500,000,000; second year, $650,000,000; third, fourth and fifth years $800,000,000 each.

A gross construction volume of $300,000,000 a year, it was estimated, would give employment to 287,000 persons, including 100,000 in the construction industry and 187,000 in contributory industries. At $800,000,000 the total would rise to 767,000.

MOSTLY IN WAGES

It has been generally accepted by both employers and labor that 75 cents out of every construction dollar expended goes into the pockets of private industry, said the brief.

Immediate preparation of complete plans for both private and public post-war construction programs was suggested, so projects would be ready for the calling of tenders "at an hour's notice."

Construction by private enterprise should be given the first chance to create employment, with public-financed construction as a backup to provide enough employment. Private industry should be encouraged to initiate construction, through low-interest loans, incentive taxation and other means.

SHOULD NOT COMPETE

Any program of public-financed construction should be of a volume government could support, and project chosen through competitive bidding with facilities provided through private enterprise. Six main types of construction should have a place in such a program: large engineering projects, highways, airports, water projects and canal and power developments; housing program; provincial,

Policeman Gets Turkey—Almost

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Other policemen viewed with envy yesterday a turkey left at headquarters for patrolman Ben Sanderson. Although the basket was covered, they could see a turkey head protruding from one end, a couple of turkey feet in the other. Then Sanderson came in and took a peek at the bird head. It was given, it consisted of a couple of turkey feet in the other and took a peek at the bird head.

District News in Brief

Ranger Discovers Three Small Fires

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE—A forest ranger discovered three small fires in the bush last week and managed to extinguish them before they did any damage. Because there is no snow the forest is very dry and forest fires are a real danger, which might do as much damage as at any time of the year. With big game hunters all through the woods the danger is greatly increased. Trappers are out on their lines too, but they never start fires. The danger is too long in the bush not to realize the danger. Indians, too, are very careful of their camp fires, but outsiders, just in for a few weeks in the fall, cannot be made to understand that a spark from a camp fire can destroy millions of feet of good timber.

Mud Ankle Deep Canadian Day, Night Patrols Now Main Activity in Italy

By DOUGLAS AMARON
WITH THE CANADIANS IN ITALY, Nov. 22.—(Delayed)—(CP)—By day and night Canadian patrols are scouting German defenses along the important Sangro River line in the interior of Italy where most of the Canadian divisions have brought all other warfare to a temporary standstill.

(Since this dispatch was written it has been announced that light Canadian infantry units, assigned to be from the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, fought off a two-hour German counter-attack near Anagni in the first Canadian operation reported for more than two weeks.)

They search out the enemy's advance elements, look for snipers, for mortars, for pill boxes, with which the Germans could delay the Allied advance.

Paratrooper often takes the Canadians right behind the German positions. They cross to the north side of the river while German patrols search for them.

There are frequent clashes between opposing patrols. They provide a constant threat to the German positions, which are now being taken by the Canadians.

Life in this mountainous country is rough. There is no shelter and the troops suffer in vehicles on the ground under nap train, making them at camp fires.

MUD ANKLE DEEP
Mud is ankle deep and the Canadians move from town to town their advance is slowed to a snail's pace by the condition of the roads and the mud.

There is scarcely a stretch of road more than a mile without mud. The mud is so deep that it is impossible to get out of it.

The conference, the statement said, replaced the former rough and ready system of distribution with a view to assisting in the allocation of food supplies by the board during the war and post-war periods.

BASIS PREPARED
The board had hoped that a basis had been prepared for continuing work which will have considerable influence on projects of social security after the war, said a statement yesterday.

The conference, the statement said, replaced the former rough and ready system of distribution with a view to assisting in the allocation of food supplies by the board during the war and post-war periods.

The method chosen was to estimate the whole food supply available to a country. But such estimates presented difficulties in taking into account home consumption of fish and game and food produced in victory and other home gardens which never appears in public statistics.

ALLOWANCES MADE
The total food supply before being taken for comparison was translated into its equivalent in calories and then compared with the actual food supply available to the country.

The conference, the statement said, replaced the former rough and ready system of distribution with a view to assisting in the allocation of food supplies by the board during the war and post-war periods.

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—(CP)—New York hockey writers continue to ride the Rangers. The Mirror's Jim Hurley says Manager Lester Patrick, looking for players, "deserved Coach Ray of Leafs in his dressing room after Sunday night's win, figuring that a victory might make Huggie somewhat expensive. He offered Lester a shipowner's minor league but the Ranger boss replied that he had enough of that kind already."

Scolded from Bobbie Rosenfeld's column in the Toronto Globe and Mail: "Joe Primeau, hockey coach of the flourishing Toronto Flyers, tells this one about the once mighty Johnny Mowers. After Hamilton had plastered a 9-2 defeat against him, Mowers trotted into the dressing room, slapped his stick down in disgust and bellowed: 'This is the last straw. When a goal judge starts telling me—me the Veina trophy winner and twice a champion with Detroit Red Wings—how to play goal, then I give up.' (The goal judge offering advice was Ernie Morley.)"

Service busses: Quebec Senior Hockey League's Montreal Army team has folded but there's still a better-than-odd chance in Montreal's National Defence League. They have players like Johnny Mahaffy, Kilby McDonald, Fred Thayer and surprise, Jean Paul, no less.

Jack Park of the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder, reports a Petawawa Army team of the Ottawa City League has been located at Cornwall several days, working out at the Cornwall rink, and comments it was not diplomatic to flaunt a group of players in the face of Cornwall players who recently saw their own team broken up by Army regulations. Park mentions the Army ruling that soldier players must proceed with training "in normal manner" and comments that moving the Petawawa team 200 miles to Cornwall just to practice for few days was inconsistent.

Incidentally, Hee Highton, Chicago Black Hawks new goalie, played last year for New Westminster Spitfires in British Columbia senior amateur company. The previous year he was with Tulsa Oilers in the American Association and for a time with a Wichita, Kan., war plant team. . . Don Metz, former N.I.L. star is reported to have resigned his Army commission to transfer to the R.C.A.F.

Exhibition Game
Against Halifax

Now Abandoned

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Controller Fred Hamilton, president of the Sports Service League, Wednesday announced that he had abandoned plans to organize a post-season exhibition football game between Halifax Navy and the Dominion football champions—either Hamilton Flying Wildcats or Winnipeg R.C.A.F. Bombers, who clash here Saturday in the Dominion final—in view of the Winnipeg team's announcement it could not play if it won.

President Sam Manson, of the Wildcats, said yesterday the Wildcats had already discussed a post-season game for Dec. 4 with the Halifax club and were willing to play but insisted that the game be in Hamilton.

"In view of the situation, I am giving up plans for the game although I would like to have seen it played under Sports Service League auspices for war charity,"

Jack Wilson, of Winnipeg, a bird handler for Ducks Unlimited said yesterday eight of the giant birds have been reported on the company's project at last Mountain Lake near Simpson, Sask. Authorities believe no more than 100 of the birds are in existence today.

Air Power

by
Maj. Alexander P. de Seversky

The temporary lull in the aerial attack on Hitler-held Europe revived the discussion of the old conundrum, "Can air power defeat Germany?" and the present resumption of large scale bombardment is likely to give it new impetus.

The discussion is unfortunate, especially from the point of view of the question, "Can air power defeat Germany?" When put in this elementary form, the question means very little sense. It questions whether or not we can destroy what kind of air power, how much of it, and the tactics to be followed.

The fact that the Germans failed in the Battle of Britain, it is often said, was due to the inferior performance of their aircraft and to mis- "tactics." It did not answer the question, "Can air power defeat Germany?" By the same token, should Anglo-American air power fail to knock Germany out of the war, it will prove a lot about the nature of our aerial effort and the character of the enemy's defenses, but it will certainly not dispose of the conundrum.

In the past year or two a number of co-operative friends of the air power idea went out on a limb and announced to the public that we could eliminate Germany quickly by concentrated offensives through the skies with the aviation they claim. They offered impressive claims to prove their claims, so many targets to be destroyed, so many tons of explosives to be delivered, so many planes on hand and coming out of aviation plants to do the job.

SAVING OFF LIMB
Already opponents of the old-fashioned surface attack have been busy saving off that limb, and in some instances blaming the mis- calculation of air power as such. What were the flaws in the figuring?

To begin with, the over-optimistic prophets tended to confuse air- plane production statistics with operational aircraft strength, ignoring the fact that there is often a wide gap between the assembly line and the fighting line. They forgot, moreover, that while in theory they could assume that all available aviation would be brought to bear against the main target, in actuality a large part of it was diverted for other purposes—bombers were even converted to transport.

Then again, they reckoned on aviation as it was, forgetting that the enemy might step up its aerial defenses and start a march on us in the matter of military personnel. They also forgot that, in general, in their eagerness to make a case for immediate air attack, they gave our own side the benefit of all doubts in the calculations. They overlooked that in air warfare, as in any other, a probable advantage without clear-cut superiority is a temptation to be overcome. It is always a probability, not a right force to the right place at the right time.

And the present signs of impatience with the progress of the Battle of Germany in part the result of the excessive hopes raised for the quarters at the start of the offensive. They who put the emphasis on the shortcomings of existing aviation, were apparently closer to the mark in their calculations, expecting too much from aerial warfare that had been fought many years ago—and not even then. We demanded instead the immediate achievement of national resources into aircraft that embodied not a part but all of the latest possibilities of aerodynamic engineering.

DEMANDS RIDICULED

Laymen in the aviation field, among writers on military subjects, ridiculed these demands for more, larger, better armaments and greater load-carrying capacity as "Jules Verneque," though these things were entirely practical. They already demonstrated in many respects. The rockets they aerial troops spray on us as a surprise, the enemy is an example of "Jules Verneque" idea come true. In all fields of knowledge, things that seem "fantastic" to outsiders are often perfectly practical in the eyes of experts.

In judging the air attack on Europe in its present state, it should therefore be borne in mind that the aviation applied thus far represents only a fraction of the military efficiency technically possible, and that the fraction of the military efficiency already demonstrated in many respects. The rockets they aerial troops spray on us as a surprise, the enemy is an example of "Jules Verneque" idea come true. In all fields of knowledge, things that seem "fantastic" to outsiders are often perfectly practical in the eyes of experts.

NEED APPARENT

The need for such convoy planes was perfectly apparent to most airmen even in the First World War. When we extend the range of single-engine fighters, as we are doing today, by taking on a drop- tank, we still do not have proper convoy protection. These planes, with their limited firepower, directed only forward, cannot do the whole job assigned to them though naturally they are better than nothing. The need for improvement on a weapon that was formerly available, indicates the handicaps under which air power is receiving its "final test" over Europe.

In the past a small, inadequate, limited land force had attempted to take some large objective and failed; it would scarcely have provided proof that land force is unable to achieve victory. The same thing would be applied in answering the question whether air power can defeat Germany. In this regard, a given objective—in case Germany.

Canadian Gunboat Flotilla Is Now Being Established

A BRITISH PORT, Nov. 25.—(CP)—The first Canadian motor gunboat flotilla to operate from British ports with ships of the Royal Navy now is being established, manned by men who have been patrolling the Canadian east coast in sub-chasing motor launches, the Royal Canadian Navy.

The flotilla will be commissioned as R.C.N. craft, but the Royal Navy will assume responsibility for operation, administration and maintenance.

The Canadian sailors volunteered for the new job after the British admiralty sent a request for men to man the proposed new naval unit.

While the new flotilla is the first motor gunboat flotilla manned by Canadians—they are now receiving a short, intensive training course in Britain—two complete Canadian gunboat flotillas have been sent to the British Sixth Army in Sicily.

DESTROYER FLOTILLA
It has been announced too, that nine of Canada's four trial class destroyers are operating as a destroyer flotilla with ships of other Allied navies.

The job done by motor gunboats is one of the toughest, riskiest in the "hot" weather, at high speed is head-cracking, bone-breaking, stomach-turning work for the crew. The ship's best defensive quality is high speed and maneuverability which make them a difficult target.

Capt. J. A. Hernan, R.C.N.R., in charge of Canada's four trial class destroyers, organized the new Canadian flotilla overseas and now is back in Canada.

B. A. Trestail, who heads a new organization devoted to rapid development of labor-management programs in Canadian industry.

Organization to Promote Better Labor Relations

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—The rapid development of labor-management programs in industry, coupled with the increasing importance of labor-management relations to industrial and commercial growth, has led to the formation of the organization.

The function of the new organization will be to investigate, analyze, and synthesize plans, policies, programs and methods (on subjects related to industrial and commercial relations) which have proven themselves through successful application and which are applicable to Canadian conditions.

Commenting on this, Mr. Trestail said: "In my travels across Canada and the United States, visiting all types of plants and talking to many thousands of men, I have found a universal willingness to exchange ideas and to give to others the benefit of plans and policies proven by experience."

Mr. Trestail said that there are one or two plants here and there who have pioneered and are leaders in different types of programs. Some of these are in Canada, some in the United States and some in England. While not rebelling against ourselves as an authority on all these subjects, we will be in a position to gauge the value of such programs and their possible application to Canadian industry and commerce.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS
This, while our operation may be termed, in a sense, a clearing house for ideas, will be a pioneer organization, and will be assisting in the development of labor-management programs for the betterment of labor relations.

Mr. Trestail was the originator of the "employee plan" for selling Victory Bonds in the 2nd Division of the Canadian employees' chest, through which some 50,000 employees have been organized in the greater Toronto district over one-half million dollars of their working time each year to war and home front charities.

Alberta Sailor
OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—(CP)—The Royal Canadian Navy is its one 21st century ship, the ship reported yesterday that Ordinary Seaman Winston Telegrapher had been killed in action.

Mr. Telegrapher, 21, of McLean, Alta., died in Toronto Nov. 19 in the result of an accident. He was a member of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve with official number 50714. His next-of-kin is his mother, Mrs. Anna Domagala of McLean.

Montreal Nursery Operators Charged

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Charges of criminal negligence were laid in court yesterday against Leo Lemieux, 56, and Mrs. Lemieux, 48, operators of the Lemieux nursery, after a coroner's jury had held them criminally responsible for the deaths of two infants.

The two-month-old and French Paul St. Germain, 29 days, were found dead in the nursery in recent weeks in hospital after their removal from private nurseries.

Mrs. Jeanne Desjardis was held criminally responsible for the deaths of two other infants last week and was charged with criminal negligence in the death of a third child, the owner of the Cécile nursery.

Testifying at yesterday's inquest were the deaths of English and St. Germain babies, Dr. Rosario Fontaine, chief medical legal expert, in all the autopsy he had conducted on the bodies of the infants taken from the Lemieux nursery, he believed malnutrition to be the basic cause for death.

300 U.S. Officers Are Entertained By King, Queen

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(CP)—A "special mission to London" on which Capt. Quentin Roosevelt and a group of fellow officers came here yesterday turned out to be the surprise of their lives: a Thanksgiving Eve party at Buckingham Palace.

Roosevelt—a grandson of the late president Theodore Roosevelt—was among some 300 American officers, WACS and nurses, including Lt. Col. George D. Devereux, commander European theatre of operations, United States Army, and Admiral Harold H. Stark, commander European waters, United States Navy, who were entertained in honor.

"We didn't know why we were invited to this party," said Roosevelt, an artillery officer, who saw action in North Africa and Sicily.

U.K. Trades Union Co. unites Assails Mosley's Release

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Britain's powerful Trades Union Congress (TUC) yesterday assailed Home Secretary Herbert Morrison's cabinet decision to release Oswald Mosley as a "murderer without a shadow of doubt."

The Trades Union declared it was "absolutely disgusted" by the government's decision to release Mosley, who was engaged in subversive activities.

The council said it "wholeheartedly endorses the resolution of the Trades Union Council of Labor repudiating the move and disapproving the release of Mosley."

107 Are Given Special Awards At Investiture

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Orders and decorations for distinguished service to the state were presented yesterday to 107 persons at Rideau Hall, in the second investiture ceremony in two days.

The Earl of Athlone presented the awards, and also presented the medals to the recipients and their relatives at a reception.

All the honorees had been announced before, either in the King's Birthday last June or in announcements from time to time by the armed services.

12 Nazi Planes Downed As Allied Trap Sprung

WITH THE 3TH AIR FORCE IN ITALY, Nov. 25.—(CP)—A trap set for the Nazi air force by an American fighter wing last night resulted in the downing of 12 Nazi planes and the capture of at least two-thirds of a force of German light bombers.

The 3TH Air Force, which is attempting to lead a fuel dump just north of Naples.

British and American fighters killed 12 of 18 German planes. The first down was a Ju 88, which was first sighted last Saturday and minor damage was done.

Major M. J. P. Gorman, D. suggested a trap. A German reconnaissance plane flew over Monday. The pictures the pilot undoubtedly took showed no anti-aircraft there—because it

Gardiner Says Liberals Back Co-Op Projects

KINDERSLEY, Sask., Nov. 25.—(CP)—Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture, said in an address here yesterday that the Liberal Party had always been in the forefront of co-operative movements and projects.

In the provincial field he mentioned the Saskatchewan government telephone system which had been put into operation by a Liberal regime. Some of the people, he said, who today were advocating every form of co-operative movement had in early years opposed the co-operative elevator movement.

NO CONNECTION
There was no more connection between Socialism and social services, than there was between Liberalism or Conservatism and social services, he said, adding Saskatchewan was not in a position to add allowances for children, all the social legislation ever covered in the Beveridge report.

Mr. Gardiner said that the former had been all the benefits of any increase over the present basic price of wheat, and that if it were sold at the grain at a loss it would not cost the farmer a cent.

Speaking on national unity, Mr. Gardiner said the Liberal party favored the present, desirable union of government, and that the country needed nine provincial governments and certainly could not get along with less than five. He predicted that if a central government were established at Ottawa, Canada would not hold together for 25 years.

France Pledged To Back Charter

BY JOSEPH E. DYMAN
ALGIERES, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The French consultative assembly yesterday unanimously expressed its support for the Atlantic Charter and the principles of the Atlantic Charter as the foundations of the new world order.

In his address concluding the assembly's two-day debate on foreign affairs, Gen. Charles de Gaulle made a new demand for complete Allied recognition of his government.

In addressing a motion presented by its foreign affairs commission, the Assembly referred indirectly to the Lebanese question by complimenting the national council of the Lebanese republic for its "entirely correct" without harming French collaboration with the Allies.

"But it is a fact," he added, "that friendly relations have been maintained in regard to us. Some apprehensions have supported them in this regard. We must make these Frenchmen have had something to do with these apprehensions."

Appeal Is Opened Against Conviction In Dawson Blast

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25.—(CP)—An appeal by the Miller Construction Co. against a judgment convicting the firm of manslaughter in the deaths of two men in an explosion and fire at Dawson Creek, B.C., was heard yesterday in the British Columbia court of appeal.

The firm's appeal has been fixed at $100,000.

The blast, which occurred Feb. 15, 1943, killed 12 men seriously. The loss was set at $350,000.

Gordon H. Miller, counsel for the Miller Co., said that the company had no knowledge that dynamite, cause of an explosion resulting in the deaths, was stored in a building owned by the Miller Co. Omar Smith Co. had placed it. The latter organization is a sub-contractor of the Miller Co.

The Miller company claims that as the dynamite was being received its fees from the U.S. Army separately, no responsibility for the accident should be borne by the Miller company.

Rescue Crew From Grounded Lighter

MIDLAND, Ont., Nov. 25.—(CP)—Seven crew members of the lighter Michigan were rescued by the coast guard yesterday after the vessel went aground on Little Whiting Island in Georgian Bay, 15 miles northwest of here. The Michigan was driven sideways into the shoal during a heavy squall, and three hours later was broken almost in half. When the crew was rescued, they were found on the water and took the Michigan's crew off by lifeboat.

Alberta TB Death Rate Is Third Lowest in Canada

River Is Frozen During Cold Snap

Slush ice which has been flowing down the Saskatchewan river for several weeks stopped Thursday night when the temperature sank to the lowest reading of the season at 15 degrees. In some places ice formed a solid sheet from bank to bank. There were still open patches of water on the current between the low level bridge and the high level bridge, but if the present cold snap continues citizens will not see the open river again until spring.

Maximum temperature Wednesday was just above the freezing point at 33 degrees. Wednesday

Orchestra Player Loses Instrument

An orchestra was practicing for a dance to be held later in the evening at the Memorial hall Wednesday. The boys in the swing band decided to knock off for coffee. They left the hall with Peter Goertz, one of their number, to guard the instruments.

When the rest returned from coffee a concert belonging to Howard and Isadore was missing.

Police arrested a man named William J. Nelson. It was said that accused had asked for coffee as a singer earlier in the evening.

Plan Discuss Employment of Special Class

Plans for making the best possible use of physically handicapped persons in the nation's war effort will be discussed at a meeting to be held Friday evening at the National Selective Service offices at which A. M. Mitchell, Ottawa, director of the employment insurance branch, department of labor, and of national selective service branches, will be the principal speaker.

He is accompanied by H. C. Hudson, Ottawa, officer in charge of special placements, and F. J. White, Winnipeg, regional officer, National Selective Service.

The meeting is being held to bring about the co-ordination of the efforts of individuals and organizations interested in the placement of instruction of the physically handicapped.

Special placement branches in the national selective service set-up will be organized in the more industrial districts so that the proper placement of physically handicapped will result in their being vocationally placed to their physical capabilities.

Improvement in Situation Is Emphasized by Official; Lauds Co-Operating Groups

Alberta's death rate from tuberculosis is the third lowest in Canada, and much of the credit for the improvement in the provincial TB picture must go to the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, working in co-operation with the Christian social committee, local health units and provincial health authorities, C. Robert Dickey, Calgary, general secretary, Alberta Tuberculosis Association, stated Friday on his arrival here to confer with local officials concerning the association's campaign against this dread disease.

He said that too many people are still dying from the disease in this province, and only through the extension of services for the early discovery of the disease can these lives be saved. There is urgent need for another mobile X-ray unit so that the work of saving valuable lives may be carried on in the cities, towns, and rural communities throughout the province.

In 1937 the first Christmas seals were sold in Canada. In city after city, town after town, groups of public-spirited people undertook to collect the annual seal sale, and by the middle of the year the campaign was organized from coast to coast on the basis of local efforts, and the local disbursement of Christmas seal funds for prevention work.

Mr. Dickey said:

"Then came the realization that tuberculosis prevention is of wider scope and must reach into all communities, urban and rural. Local social committees organized special lines, banding together to expand and intensify the crusade against tuberculosis. In some provinces, notably Saskatchewan, immediate progress was made, and the anti-tuberculosis league evolved into every part of the province, seeking out the cause of tuberculosis, searching for early cases of the disease, educating the children."

Visiting City

Mr. Robert Dickey, Calgary, general secretary, Alberta Tuberculosis Association, who arrived in Edmonton Thursday morning to confer with local organizations regarding the sale of Christmas seals to provide money for the anti-tuberculosis campaign in the province.

Lights Stay On Half Hour Longer

Modification in the city's dimout was made Thursday morning when street lights were left burning until 8:30 instead of being turned off at 8 a.m. It was announced by R. J. Gibb, city commissioner in charge of utilities.

No other change in the dimout regulations is contemplated, he said, until it has been determined that there is no likelihood of another cessation of coal mining.

The dimout has been in effect since the miners' strike, and is being continued to enable the city to accumulate coal stocks at the power house. Mr. Gibb said that delivery of coal had been fairly regular, but the reserve supply at the power plant was considerably below normal.
